What I Really Needed to Start a Business

Outside of a business plan, or a budget, or a logo, I will share what I really needed to start a new organization.

inspiration - how the idea actually came together supporters - the people who came forward to help, and those who did not determination - the hurdles that needed jumped faith - what kept me going

I'll share my journey and how each of these components kept me going through the launch of the nonprofit I founded.
